Nevada County Share Of Gas Tax $11,446

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30—(UP)—Apportionment to counties of $3,161,741.05 as their share of the $9,485,223.14 in gasoline taxes collected during the third quarter was announced today by Ray L. Riley, state controller.

Of the total, $11,446 was allocated to Nevada county.

Apportionment of the gasoline tax income, one-third of which goes to counties and the remainder to the state division of highways, is expected to give new impetus to local highway development work in keeping with the ambitious program well under way by the state.

According to Eric Cullenward, deputy director of the state department of public works, approximately $5,500,000 in construction work has been placed under way since September 13.

Contracts awarded total $7,200,000, but work actually has started on projects totaling $5,500,000, he said.

As a part of the program to relieve unemployment by means of the public works projects, local workers are being called in this order: Veterans with dependents, non-veterans with dependents, single veterans and and single non-veterans. This preference has been made mandatory in most of the recent contracts.

LUCKY BOY SOON TO START NEW TUNNEL

Roy Walsh, Henry Kohler and C. Blye of Washington are to start soon on a new tunnel on their 80 acre gravel property, the Lucky Boy.

Last year they drove a tunnel but it was too high, but now they will drop down several feet, tunnel 125 feet and then raise. They believe from all ndications they will tap the rich gold bearing channel before many months.

The Lucky Boy is located on the Scotchman Creek north of Washington.

The men have their winter supplies in and expect to work all winter and open up the channel in the spring.

MODOC COUNTY IS SOME TOUGH COUNTRY

William Kervin, who is a member of the Nevada City Nugget's Mechanical Department, is a very timid young man- (so it seems), Last week "Bill" took a notion to go up into the wilds of Modoc County—(for reasons which the writer can not fathom) and as every one knows, Modoc County is a tough country.

"Bill pulled into good old Alturas and up into the main part of town, and going into one of the popular drink emporiums ordered in a small voice—"an ice cream soda, please."

About this time a big bewhiskered tough native rode up in front of this said drink emporium riding a mean looking broncho with the disposition of a Mountain lion and one of the toughest unbroken fuzz tails in the country—In his hand he was wielding (as a quirt) a live rattlesnake, and he shouted to one of the attendants to bring him a drink of carbolic acid, and to bring it ——— quick" The attendant replied that he was out of that particular liquid, and the tough one said "Make it concentrated lye"— which was brought to him pronto, and no questions asked—the tough one downed the stuff in one gulp and rode off down the street.everyone giving him a wide berth.

In the meantime "Bill" eyes were sticking out his head like beads on a rag doll. He did not even stop to finish his ice cream soda but according to reports took the next train home.

"Bill" does not have much to say about his trip to Modoc and when anyone brings up the subject he has a worried look.

ENGINEER BUILDS HOME AT EMPIRE NORTH STAR

A. Kendall, safety engineer, of the Empire-North Star Mining Company, is constructing an attractive five room cottage and bath on the Empire-North Star grounds. It is being built with a rustic finish to fit into the beautiful surroundings of pines and the natural woodland.

WELCOME RAIN CLEANS UP DUST

Heavy clouds blew in seemingly from the coast all day Saturday and at about 11:30 p. m. Sunday morning rain commenced falling in Nevada City. Up to 4:30 the rain gauge at the home of Mrs. Ben Preston measured .45 of an inch.

Rain has fallen practically all day today coming down in torrents for the most of the time and it would seem we have had two inches of rain.

A strong wind for this district has blown off and on. No damage from the storm has been reported so far but early this morning a 60 foot poplar back of the home of Tony Fradelizzio on Pine street, fell into the stream with a crash. If it had fallen toward the house it would have crushed in the kitchen and dinning room. The wind also tilted a big walnut tree in the garden of Ed. Schmidt.

A huge tree was blown over across the road just below the Junction house on the road to Washington and for a short time traffic came to a halt.

Up till 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the storm had brought 3.80 inches of rain, which is close to a record for any storm of last season.

GRASS VALLEY GRID MEN BEAT NEVADA CITY

By The Cub Reporter

In the big Miner—Yellow Jacket fracas, Grass Valley's team slapped the local boys for a row of six touchdowns—plus four conversions, Nevada City 0, Grass Valley 40.

The local boys were in there fighting every minute of the game, but the weight, speed, and experience were too much for the light Nevada City line.

Grass Valley, playing, a fast, hard game, was able to score in every quarter. The Miners, converted on passes, and snappy end-runs, and also on several trick plays.

On the local team, Roman Rozynski, Nevada City's A 1 center, was conspicious again and again for his hard, efficient tackling. Grass Valley just couldn't put the ball through the center of the line.

Professor Sweeney's musical children, the band, drew attention by the fine execution of several well-known pieces. Grass Valley's high school band was also heard.

A humorous note was added by the Grass Valley public address announcer, who besides giving Grass Valley an extra five yards on almost every play, announcing every substitute as "Nevada City's one and only," or Grass Valley's "one and only," announced Bob Schiffner Nevada City's water boy as "McGraw, Nevada City's, one and only, a ten flat man."

PEP RALLY IS HELD BEFORE GRID GAME

Friday morning at fifth period the high school student body held a rousing pep assembly in anticipation of the Grass Valley and Nevada City grid tussle. Before the pep rally a business meeting was held. Then President Ben Sweeney made a short speech in which he commemorated the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt.

A delegation of Grass Valley student speakers were introduced in the following order by President Sweeney: George Labadie, end on Grass Valley's team, Ralph Pinter, quarterback and Lois McCabe, representative of the girls of Grass Valley. High Coach Bill Wilson, Grass Valley grid mentor also made a short speech. Tony Mecia, center, concluded Grass Valley's part of the program.

To Be World's Richest Girl

On Nov. 23, her birthday, Doris Duke, above, will find herself the possessor of the greater part of a fortune ranging from $53,000,000 to $82,000,000, and the title of the richest girl in the world. She is the daughter of the late James B. Duke, tobacco king.

WARREN CHAPMAN, U. C. GRIDDER, HURTS KNEE

Warren Chapman, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Chapman, freshman at the University of California, while playing football last week wrenched his right knee in such a way that the cord in the back of the leg got wedged between the joint of the knee according to x-rays.

He is in the U. C. hospital and doctors will operate tomorrow in order to free the cord. He will be laid up for two weeks and out of football for the season. His teachers have given him full credit for this semester even though he looses the time from classes.

CAMPTONVILLE TO ASK HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 23.—A number of local business men and citizens plan to make an appeal to the Yuba County Board of Supervisors at their next meeting to go before the Highway Commission and ask for appropriations for the improvement of the Yuba Pass highway from Freeman's Crossing to Joubert, 12 miles of state highway in the mountains of Yuba county. This piece of road is said to be one of the most crooked stretches of highway in the state, a menace to life and property, and a danger to the local school children who are transported over this road twice a day.

Both Nevada county and Sierra county have made direct appeals to the Highway Commission for improvements of this route, and with Yuba county joining their forces it will give them more strength in obtaining something definite.

These twelve miles of highway in Yuba county have replaced several miles of old county road, thus eliminating that much upkeep from the county, and local residents feel that it is in order to make an effort for help on this road. So far nothing has been done on this road matter in Yuba county for no one made much comment on it, and the subject became dormant.

PHOENIX MINE WILL BE REHABILITABLE

The Phoenix mine, located below the Allison Ranch south of Grass Valley, is being reopened by Mr. Davey.

Mr. Davey was formerly connected with the New Almaden quicksilver company near San Jose.

A good sized program of development has been mapped out for the Phoenix property.

JONES RAPS "R" LICENSE PLATES

By GEORGE E. HELMER

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30—(UP)—There will be no "Royal" license plates issued or Roman Togas worn at public occasions if Senator Herbert C. Jones of San Jose is elected governor of California next year.

Officiating at horned toad derbies is no job for a governor, and it isn't necessary for an executive to ride around in airplanes. Jones says he never has been in a plane and doesnt intend to start flying.

He believes a governor should look after the business of his office and not spend much of his time shaking hands with politicians and posing for pictures with pretty girls.

He takes particular exception to the issuance of "R" license plates which appear on automobiles driven by close friends of the present administration. Those "R" plates are supposed to make their owners untouchable. They don't work out that way, but it's the principle of the thing that annoys Senator Jones. If he had the authority to order license plates, he would be sure that no person or particular class received any unusual consideration.

Five hundred "R" license plates were issued last year. One thousand have been ordered for 1934—campaign year.

Senator Jones emphatically denies rumors that he may with-draw from the gubernatorial race. He will fight to the end, he insisted, running as a progressive in the fight for the republican nomination.

He will make an outstanding issue of the sales tax. He wants a "wealth tax" on personal income. He is supporting the Central Valley Water project.

On the subject of the sales tax, he is not opposed, openly, to the entire plan but he does feel that food should be exempted, and he has pledged himself to fight for that if elected. His campaign trips about the state have taught him there is considerable resentment against a sales tax on food. He believes this section of the tax places a particular burden on the poor, while wealth escapes its share of expense.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FLORENCE JEWETT

PUBLIC DINNER WILL MARK ARMISTICE DAY

Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., and Auxiliary held a splendid meeting last Thursday evening in the Odd Fellow hall. Comrade Borgour, of Lodi, Council of Administration member, was present and gave an interesting and encouraging talk. There were other visitors present from Roseville, Auburn and the C. C. C. camps at the southern city limits of Nevada City.

The post discussed plans for Armistice Day, Saturday, November 11. It was arranged that there would be a parade of the Veterans and Auxiliary of this post and representations from other posts, the school children and the public in general.

After the parade a public dinner will be served from noon until three o'clock.

In the evening a 50 cent charge will be made for supper and an entertainment th elatter being several musical selections, songs and cards with Mr. Carpenter of the post putting on some parlor tricks. There will also be speeches by several members of the organization. The money raised from the dinner on Armistice Day will go into a benefit fund.

At the meeting Thursday evening Major Frank Chapman recently nominated commander of the local post, resigned, giving his reason as press of business affairs. At the next regular meeting night a new commander will be nominated.

Banner Mountain Post has assisted in sending 25 ex-service men to the unemployment camp at the southern limits of Nevada City.

E. Prati has been elected an honorary member of Banner Mountain Post and will be presented with a gold button as the last surviving member of the G. A. R.

Several other prominent recruits will be initiated in the near future.

KEG BAND HIT OF G. V. PARADE

Leading the big parade Saturday evening in Grass Valley in celebration of the Quartz Gold Discovery, was the Nevada City Keg Band, which elicits music of a kind from kegs (empty) and is led by Tiny Kilroy, who with his white bearskin cap is only a little over eight feet tall.

The spectacular feature of this band, aside from its extraordinary music, is its long and illuminated noses which enable the musicians to read their music. This device, it is surmised, will soon be adopted by all bands which participate in parad on dark nights.

Dressed in spotless white, with the only touch of color, the red light at the end of each false nose, the Native Sons Keg Band immediately made a popular hit. One of the effects of this novel entertainment was to attract all Hallowe'en pranksters from the back alleys, thereby saving many an ash can from a more or less permanent vacation. Several hundred people gathered along the streets to see the parade, gave most applause to the Keg Band.

The musicians who participated in Saturday night's parade were:

Drum Major, E. J. Kilroy.
Color Bearers, Ernest Chapman, B. Kilroy.
Standard Bearer, C. B. Anderson.
Drum Master, Ray George, Ulysis Lotz.
Bass Drum, Dick Nicklesa.

TRUE GRIT MINE GETS IN WATER SUPPLY

CAMPTONVILLE, (Yuba Co.), Oct. 22—A new method in ditch digging, which would make the early day pioneer miners stare with awe, has been inaugurated at the True Grit mine, nine miles north of here, in preparation of operations for winter.

The operators of the property, finding it necessary to dig a ditch several miles long to bring water from Oregon Creek to the mine, hired a bay city contracting firm to bring up a power shovel with which 4000 feet of ditch was dug in the first four days. This is an excellent record, and a new method of ditch digging in hydraulic properties in this section.

THE PRINCIPLE OF FREE SPEECH

The other day there appeared on the first page of the Nevada City Nugget a letter signed by thirty one citizens of Sierra county. The signatures constituted a representative cross section of the people of that county. The letter was in defense, for the exoneration and in commendation of a Federal official and his long years of labor and achievement in this section of the Sierras. The letter refuted an attack upon this official by another newspaper.

Now in so far as the controversy, initiated and conducted with some bitterness by the newspaper in question, we are not so much concerned. We would say that the work of this particular official speaks for itself, that his record is an open book, written large in terms of mountain roads, fire breaks, camp sites, telephone lines, trails, and fire prevention. The whole Tahoe area is a Brobdinagian manuscript on which he has imprinted his achievements.

However, from time to time, in so large an area with so many varied needs to be served, it would be surprising if there were not, here and there, groups who would ask for something more than this official had the powers or the resources to grant. They might wax bitter in their demands and resort to the press to express their views on the matter in controversy. An editor might take up their cudgels and fly into the battle. Supporters of the official might rally to his defense, to his exoneration and commend him for the good work he has done. In fact these things are exactly what have happened.

The point we wish to make clear here is that minorities, majorities, individuals and groups have a right to be heard in the press. That this Sierra county group which voiced its opinion in the Nevada City Nugget should have done so in this newspaper in preference to their home town newspaper, constitutes an indictment of their home town newspaper. Either they feared the editor would not publish their letter, or they distrusted his manner of doing it.

Freedom of the press, freedom of speech are guaranteed under the Constitution. No editor should be so thin skinned that he cannot bear punishment in the battles he inaugurates. Regardless of what his own policy, his own convictions, his own prejudices may be, his columns should be open to all citizens in his community. Otherwise freedom of the press means nothing.

The editor, who denies to the members of his community expression in his columns, regardless of how much counter their view may run to his own, is a skulker fighting from ambush, a miserable bushwhacker potting his enemies from safe covert.

Newspaper associations throughout the country are now working on a newspaper code. One of the questions which will arise before that code is signed and accepted, is this one of freedom of press, guaranteed by the Constitution. Under the general conditions laid down by the NRA, all businesses which do not comply with their code may have their licenses revoked. The press of the United States has declared in unmistakable terms that it will not accept that condition. Who shall consitute himself a judge and close down a newspaper by withdrawing its license? Will he be a Mussolini, a Hitler or Stalin? The newspapers of this country will not accept a license system which would ever permit such a condition to arise as that which now obtains in Germany, Italy, and Russia, where public opinion is throttled, where the iron heel of dictatorship permits nothing but laudations of its own conceits to appear in the press.

In view of this stand taken unanimously by the press of the country, it becomes more than ever the obligation of individual editors to see to it that their columns are free to the expression of opinion from whaever source, on whatever subject, so long as these expressions are within legal limits; that their newspapers are open forums, where anyone may come to debate public questions. And unless this standard is jealously maintained the day may come when the press will lose its freedom for the very simple reason that it has denied to others the right it claims for itself, the right of free speech.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the New York Zoological Society looks like Mayor Rossi in profile.

Having once in boyhood lived in my uncle's house, and at that time being old enough to begin to learn to be a blacksmith, I have had the pleasure of listening to the ring of the anvil while three strikers were molding a piece of metal to the desires of their customers. But here is what I started out to say, that any one who has heard this music of the anvil, will always hear this music in many years afterward, will always hanker to stand in the doorway of the smithy just at dark watching those sparks fly, and listening to the anvil chorus. This chorus needs to make no apology to the ones rendered in "Il Trovatore."

Being sick in bed today with a bad cold I am dictating this to the Mrs. She says my grammar is terrible, that I put prepositions where they shouldn't be, and many other grosser errors. I have asked her in the meantime to let the errors appear just this once and when I am not ill, with time to spare I will be more careful.

Lloyd George the old war horse of Britian, one of the smartest Englishmen that ever lived, in my opinion, took the hide off the Allies because of their delinquencies in the arms parley, and I think rightfully. We must remember that it was NOT the German people who made the war, but a power crazed Hohenzollern.

I for one could never see, in all fair play, why Germany should be further humiliated. After all civilization owes something to the Teutons.

FRENCH CORRAL

(By Mrs. Kate M. Sulivan)

FRENCH CORRAL, Oct. 24th.—Well here we are back again to the pleasant duty of "telling the world" of French Corral and the many little things that happen in this section.—As an apology for our silence, will say that hot weather, old age, depression and many other things have contributed to the cause of our delinquency.

Shortage of water is working a hardship on many of us and the welcome rain of the last few days will help some. —Those who are operating "dry washes are the ones who need it the most.

Since our last writing we passed through a week of hot days. The nights are cool and now we have a complete change and old man winter is just around the corner.

Among recent arrivals in our vicinity are Mr. and Mrs. Roland, of Forest Hill.

Charles Wright, late of Oregon, has decided to become one of our community. Mr. Wright has a pattern of dry washer, that seems to be just the right thing, and has had several orders for making them and is helping others to make them.

E. A. May made a trip to Nevada City last week. He is busily engaged in prospecting his mine in the Gooseberry Ravine section, which so far gives promise of a slendid future.

Mrs. K. Jaynes, who has been on an extended visit to the family of her son, Albert, returned to her home near Camptonville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gidley spent ten days here, on a visit with Mrs. Gidley's aunt, Mrs. J. Kirkwood. They have been living in Santa Rosa but will locate in Auburn where Mrs. Gidley thinks the climate best adapted to her health.

Mr. and Mrs. Rundy, of Sacramento, visited friends on the Ridge and in French Corral a week ago. Their many friends are pleased to know that Mrs. Rundy is recovering from her recent very severe illness.

G. O. Gaunt, the "Raleigh man" made a business trip here during the week.

The family of Thomas Fogarty, of Marysville, spent Sunday with relatives in French Corral.

Members of Columbia Parlor, No. 70 N. D. G. W. held a meeting the afternoon of October 20th. They are looking forward to a visit from their Grand President, Mrs. Irene Laird, the afternoon of November 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Browning and daughter, Irene, made a trip to Jackson where they visited with Mr. Browning's mother and friends. They returned to their home Sunday evening.

G. Stevens of Pike City, who has been running an order wagon thru this section for the past month, and getting his suplies from Grass Valley, made his final trip Tuesday.

We are sorry to say that many cases of stealing have taken place in this section of late. Monday night some parties who came by auto, killed a valubale heifer belonging to Mrs. K. Neilson. They took the hind quarters and shoulders and left the rest of the meat to spoil. Chickens have been stolen from several places also. So far we have no clues to the offender.

Again grim death has invaded the ranks of our Ridge natives and taken two of our most worthy men. The late P. H. Leonard of Nevada City, who spent all his early life on the San Juan Ridge, in Birchville in childhood and school days and later in Sweetland, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him will be missed in the mining world as well as by his family. He followed that branch of industry all his life, and his services were sought in distant places. For many years he was in the employment of the late George T. Coffey during his mining activities in the Klondyke. He was a man of stirling character and we share the grief of his bereaved famliy.

Through a letter from a friend in San Francisco we learned of the death of another of our San Juan Ridge natives, William Rees, who pased away the last of September, after many months of suffering. He was a native of North San Juan, but after the death of his mother he and his brother came to Birchvlile to live with their grandmother. Here his childhood and schoolday life was spent. When a young man he went to live in San Francisco where he learned a trade. He too, like all our "Ridge" natives was a man of sterling qualities. Besides his devoted wife, who was Miss Ldwia Davis, and for many years a member of the household of the late O. P. Stidger, he leaves one brother, Thomas Rees of Oregon, to mourn his passing.

Our teacher, Miss Theresa O'Connor, who was in attendance at Institute, reported a very pleasant session.

NORTH SAN JUAN

By Mrs. E. M. Wiggins

NORTH SAN JUAN, Oct. 24—Mr. Buckner and a number of Nevada City young people held a song service in the home of Mrs. Oshir at Freeman's Crossing on Sunday at 2 o'clock. It was well attended by many who are camping along the river and Oregon Creek.

They afterwards came to San Juan and held a similar service in the church at 3 p. m. Ben Sweeney, who is well known as the president of the Nevada City high school student body took charge of the singing, which was enjoyed by all present. On November 12 they will be at the church again for another song service.

Mrs. Giles' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Day of Sacramento, visited their daughter and family on Sunday.

Walter McCullough drove up from Brown's Valley on Friday and took his father back with him for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buhl. The Buhl's are soon to build a new house and wanted Mr. McCullough to look over the plans.

Mrs. Wodell had a surprise call on Sunday evening when her nieces Miss Edith and Miss Irma Pinaglia and Mr. Sheridan of Sacramento dropped in on her unexpectedly.

Mrs. W. C. Ennis had her tonsils removed one day last week and made a satisfactory recovery from the operation.

Birthday of Early Settler Honored

A surprise birthday dinner was given Mrs. Mary Guenther Sunday by her daughter, Mrs. James Dolan.

It was a happy occasion for Mrs. Guenther as she celebrated her 84th birthday with nearly all of her children and several relatives gathed together in a joyous surprise.

Mrs. Guenther is among this city's earliest pioneers, coming to Nevada City from Missouri with her parents when only six years of age, by way of the isthmus of Panama.

Her father, business man of Nevada City, died at the age of 35, leaving the mother and several little children.

She remembers quite vividly the fire of 1856 when Nevada City burned all night and all day and the people were powerless to control the flames. Several people lost their lives in the fire and families became separated. The first night her family slept in a big brewery with many others. As the fire spread they became separated and a stranger led little Mary to safety up on Sugar Loaf where large piles of family belongings were piled after being tied in sheets. She was placed in the care of a troupe of actors and actresses who were in the town to act in the local theatre for a night or two. As the troupe was upon the point of leaving the city little Mary was to have been taken by them to be cared for as a lost child. About this time her frantic parents passed by and saw her sitting in their midst crying bitterly over her predicament and was rescued.

Mrs. Guenther has resided in her present home 61 years.

She is greatly loved and respected and has always taken an interest in community affairs and assisting others when in need or trouble. Her mind is keen and clear with events of the past in her memory as a big book and the present a delight to her.
